

THE SCIENCE BEHIND CHANGE OWNERSHIP

Change is a critical part of business, yet all too often teams resist and miss the opportunity to use change as a mechanism for levelling-up their results. More than simply managing the process of change, today's high-performance teams need to master change ownership.

This hands-on program unpacks how effective change ownership starts with developing a team culture primed to embrace change. Communication techniques and management strategies that make the process of implementing change effective and engaging for stakeholders are then layered in.

How participants benefit from this program:

- Understand what makes change so hard and why teams often resist
- Learn how to cultivate a team culture that embraces change
- Gain new skills for managing change effectively
- Develop personal communication techniques for rallying support and priming the team mindset for change
- Learn how to use game mechanics as a framework to motivate team members through the process
- Understand how to excel as a leader during times of turbulence

Program Overview:

1. Half-day experiential session for up to 20 participants
2. Post-training 1:1 coaching session for each participant

FROM ONLY $395 /participant

Average investment per person may vary based on total number of participants

LEVEL52

“ After bringing our organization together for Level 52's Change Ownership workshop, I've seen a noticeable difference in how the team's approach changed. Instead of resisting it - or worse, fumbling through the process - our teams now embrace change as the key mechanism that will lead our organization to a better version of tomorrow. It's amazing how our team's mindset, communication and collaboration have all improved after just a half-day workshop and a coaching session. I highly recommend this program for any team that wants to excel and navigating change - and begin the processes of evolving their business as a result. ”

Steve Mesler
Co-Founder, President & CEO at Classroom Champions
Olympic Gold Medalist

Contact us today to learn more and schedule this program for your team!

level52.ca | hello@level52.ca | 833.538.3552